Three Irish Girls is an artisan, hand-dyed, yarn company based in Superior, Wisconsin, on the beautiful shores of Lake Superior. Founded in 2010 by two women, Three Irish Girls is committed to creating unique, stunning colorways for any project or palette. They use luxurious natural yarn bases that are a true joy to work with. Their yarns and fibers are available at fine yarn shops all over the world.

Ann Weaver sees knitting patterns in container ships, Tom Wait's lyrics, Moby Dick, classic cocktails, and the work of artists like Josef Albers and Mark Rothko. Her work has been featured in Knitty, Mason-Dixon Knitting, Interweave books and magazines, and many other print and electronic publications, as well as in her self-published books & collections. When she is not traveling & teaching, Ann lives in Baltimore, Md., where she works as a freelance editor & writer & spends her free time volunteering and working to bring change to her community.

Marie Greene is an international knitwear designer and instructor. Her mission is to create designs that are enjoyable to knit and effortless to wear - practical, classic styles that work for real bodies. As a teacher, Marie's passion and energy (not to mention her clever techniques) make learning a fun, upbeat experience. You'll laugh, you'll learn and you'll leave inspired. When she's not knitting, you'll find her in the kitchen or meandering along the coast with her husband. Marie lives in the Pacific Northwest with her husband, and together, they are the parents of three grown sons.
